

INDEPENDENTS ACT TO UNCOVER FRAUD

Twenty Warrants to Be Sworn Against Alleged Wrongdoers in Election

GORDON IS IN FULL CHARGE

Independents today launched a fight against election frauds at the primaries. The fight may result in the opening of ballot boxes of numerous election divisions.

Twenty warrants are to be served today on election officers and voters charged with giving illegal assistance at the polls.

The committee of seventy obtained the warrants, which are for men in the First, Second, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-ninth and Thirtieth wards.

More than 200 complaints to independent parties are under investigation today. The activities of many city employees are being scrutinized. Many City Hall jobholders were reported "sick" on election day.

While detectives of the district attorney's staff are guarding the ballot boxes in City Hall, other county operatives are running down complaints of fraud.

The committee of seventy likewise is driving toward the bottom of the fraud reports.

According to E. L. D. Romel, of the committee of seventy, 100 men in the First ward, who voted Tuesday, had swaded the draft by claiming to be aliens.

"The arrests to be made today," said Mr. Roach, "are for men charged with illegal registration, illegal voting or giving assistance at the polls illegally."

From the legal side, the independent party marshaled by Moore and James Gay Gordon, who has been retained as special counsel for the committee of one hundred.

Gain Through Publicity

Mr. Gordon, after a consultation with other attorneys of the Moore committee, issued this statement: "A consultation with representatives of the committee of one hundred has just been had in connection with disclosure of the gravest nature touching the conduct of the election in certain wards of the city."

"More than this I cannot now say. If an investigation is made by the court computing the returns, Mr. Moore's vote and that of his colleagues on the ticket will be greatly increased and certain apparent results will be reversed. The act, in part, follows: "Upon the sworn affidavits of three qualified electors of any election precinct, division or district of any county, upon information which they consider reliable, they believe an act of fraud or error, although not manifest upon the general returns, votes made herefrom, has been committed thereon, the return board shall, at any time prior to the completion of the computation and canvassing of all the returns from the county, open the ballot-box of such election district, and cause the entire vote thereof to be recounted in manner aforesaid, and if they discover any fraud or material error, they shall correct, compute and certify the votes of such election district justly, regardless of any fraudulent or erroneous returns made by the election officers thereof, and correct any entries previously made in the papers being prepared by the return board accordingly."

New Election Act

The new method was provided in an act passed at the last session of the Legislature. The act, in part, follows: "Upon the sworn affidavits of three qualified electors of any election precinct, division or district of any county, upon information which they consider reliable, they believe an act of fraud or error, although not manifest upon the general returns, votes made herefrom, has been committed thereon, the return board shall, at any time prior to the completion of the computation and canvassing of all the returns from the county, open the ballot-box of such election district, and cause the entire vote thereof to be recounted in manner aforesaid, and if they discover any fraud or material error, they shall correct, compute and certify the votes of such election district justly, regardless of any fraudulent or erroneous returns made by the election officers thereof, and correct any entries previously made in the papers being prepared by the return board accordingly."

KELSEY OUT FOR KING

Only Candidate for Jersey Governorship Who Will Aid People, He Says Orange, N. J., Sept. 18.—An open letter was last night addressed to Thomas L. Raymond by F. W. Kelsey, of Orange, former chairman of the commission which secured the passage of the limited franchise act, limiting the franchises of public utilities to twenty-five years in New Jersey, former vice president of the Essex county park commission and former chairman of the committee which passed the New Jersey street tree planting law.

Mr. Kelsey severely criticizes Candidate Raymond's position as to the Public Service Corporation, as well as the position of Newton A. K. Bugbee and Governor Ruxton, and comes out flat-footedly in behalf of Warren C. King for the Republican nomination for governor, as the only candidate whose platform promises real relief to the people of New Jersey on the public service issue.

OPPOSE STRIKE OF PRINTERS

National Union to Consider Protest at Meeting Today

New York, Sept. 18.—(By A. P.)—Opposition to a general strike on October 1 in the book and job printing shops of the city is outlined in the draft of a statement to be considered today by the board of governors of the National Printing Trades Union.

Arbitration or conciliation must be tried before a strike will be sanctioned. This, it is said, is the opinion held by the members of the board.

The United Typographers of America, composed of employing printers, concluded their convention yesterday by electing William Green, of this city, president. Mr. Green will head the employers' committee which tomorrow will take up the demands of the local union. These demands provide for a four-hour week, which the local union leaders so far have refused to agree to the decision of a board of arbitration.

GLADYS VANDERBILT BACK FROM HUNGARY

Countess Szechenyi, Wife of Nobleman, Arrives for Visit. Suffered War Privations

New York, Sept. 18.—The Countess Szechenyi, formerly Miss Gladys Vanderbilt, returned to her native land yesterday on board the Pesaro, of the Italian Line, for her first visit to the United States in five years.

"I am more than happy to be back," she said. "This is my country, after all, and it is my city, too!"

She looked longingly at the Statue of Liberty as the Italian vessel passed slowly up the bay and toward her pier at West Fifty-seventh street. She pointed out the New York skyline to her four children, Corinna, ten years old, Alice, eight; Gladys, six, and Sylvia, ten months old.

Countess Szechenyi, according to reports coming to the United States from the beginning of the war, probably suffered more real hardships as the result of the war than any other of the American women in a like position. It was said that she actually was in need of food and clothing at times despite the fact that in America she had properties and holdings of various kinds valued at upward of $9,000,000.

LATE SUBURBAN RETURNS

Many Surprises in Nearby Elections. "Fining Squire" Beaten

Latest returns from adjacent counties showed several political surprises. Roy A. Hatfield won the Republican nomination for county commissioner in Montgomery county, defeating William Hagginbotham, the organizing candidate.

Joseph C. Kerbaugh, president of the Lower Merion commission, won the Republican nomination for commissioner over Charles Siddell. In Cheltenham township nominees for commissioner were Charles Fowler, John C. Taylor and H. Carroll Brooke.

In Abington township nominees for commissioner were J. Irwin Niblock, Theodore Edwards and Charles M. Mebus. Delaware county was swept by the Republican organization. John R. Peckin won the nomination for sheriff, county commissioner nominees being Harris A. Butler and Lewis A. Kley. Other nominees were Warren G. Carson, recorder of deeds; Fred A. Talbot, prothonotary; John C. Groff, register of wills.

In Haverford township Main Line voters re-elected Robert Thomas, of Bryn Mawr, the "fining squire." Joseph L. Cunningham winning the Republican nomination. Nominees for township commissioner were Samuel H. Moore, George D. Deaves and Richard S. Devese. Howard Leedom was nominated for county treasurer.

ASK T. R., JR., TO SPEAK HERE

Lieutenant Colonel May Address Men in Legion Member Drive

Lieutenant Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., has been invited to speak during the American Legion membership drive in this city which starts September 22.

Stringent action against draft dodgers will be taken by the War Relocation Authority to renew German propaganda here recommended at a meeting of Post No. 61, at Fortieth street and Lancaster avenue, last night.

The post some time ago sent a letter to United States District Attorney Kane demanding that he be more strenuous in the Bergdoll hunt, and asking why something was not done about the Hilsford meeting of German-Americans in the Turgenieff Hall on August 28.

Mr. Kane's reply, saying that he was doing all he could against the draft dodgers, but could do nothing about the German meeting, did not suit the members, and the resolutions passed last night were in stronger terms.

The state convention also will be petitioned to appoint local grievance committees to take up the matter of failure of employers to re-employ discharged men who had worked for them.

COUNCILS RECONVENE TODAY

Resume Financial Juggling to Carry City to End of Year

Financial juggling to carry municipal departments through the closing months of the year will be resumed today when both branches of Councils reconvene after the summer recess.

More than $1,000,000 is needed by the departments. By far the largest demands come from the Department of Supplies. Funds are needed for coal bills and for supplies generally. Funds will also be needed to carry pay rolls.

There is no large balance of money available for appropriation and it looks as though the principal task before the present Councils will be the arrangement of transfers so as to permit balances on hand to be used for the purposes for which money is demanded for the last three months of the year.

Mayor Smith is expected to send a number of communications to Councils. One will have to do with city assets.

WESCOTT NAMED BY 3308 MARGIN

Former New Jersey Official's Son Gets Democratic Nomination for Mayor

VOTE SHOWS GREAT SLUMP

For Mayor, Harry D. Wescott.

This was the answer of Democratic voters at the primaries. They gave Mr. Wescott, son of New Jersey's former attorney general, who twice nominated Woodrow Wilson for the presidency, a majority of 3308 over his opponent, former Congressman Michael Donohoe.

At the last election the Democrats registered 55,000. For Tuesday's primary there were 22,000.

On the independent side of the Republican party leaders claim that the 23,000 "dropped to Ferguson in a bare deal with Judge Eugene Bonnell, a Democratic factional leader. They say the plan was for the Democrats to support Patterson for Mayor in exchange for Ferguson's support for Bonnell's judicial aspirations.

Vote Shrinks Radly

The shrinkage in the Democratic vote in Philadelphia is cause for comment, as in the days of Bryan's political adventures and during Wilson's last presidential campaign, he polled about 70,000 or 80,000 votes.

Tuesday's vote gave Henry W. Brandt 7925 votes, a plurality over Albert E. Spaul, who polled 6128, but 4155 for recorder of deeds.

Unopposed Franklin A. Smith, Jr., polled 12,281 votes for sheriff. Edwin E. Borie and Edgar G. Lank are neck-and-neck in the race for county commissioner, the former receiving 8864 and the latter 8813 votes. The two men are Benjamin H. Renshaw and William E. Ritter.

John R. Minehart sweeps into the nomination for coroner unopposed with 12,422 votes. Peter Joseph of quarter sessions, Elmer W. Nittingger has a plurality of 1418 over Horace S. Fogel. Edward E. McPeak mustered 11,732 votes for clerk of the court, the four highest candidates for magistrate are John F. McConney, John A. Dougherty, Michael J. Conway and Henry C. Kline.

One Hot Contest

The only hot Democratic contest for nominations for Council resulted in the West Philadelphia forces, led by Postmaster John H. Thayer, and David Henry Charles E. Gill and David Henry, who were backed by Magistrate Joseph S. Doyle, leader of the "regulars." The third hot contest was between Edward Monaghan, who was nominated, James J. Bissard is the fourth nominee, he having been supported by both factions.

Following the vote, by districts of the slated regular Democratic candidates nominated in the seven districts where there was little or no opposition, and of all candidates in the Fourth, First District (3 nominees)—Edward Conwell, 864; Daniel W. Hallaway, 782; James Hannigan, 946.

Second (2)—Peter Johnson, 317; Adolph Kraus, 296. Third (1)—John M. Haugher, 448. Fourth (4)—James J. Bissard, 1411; Edward E. McPeak, 1173; David Henry, 786; Bernard J. Monaghan, 1144; William J. Dougherty, 1621; Albert S. Houldsworth, 760; Dr. R. S. Keeler, 1191.

Fifth (2)—P. Oliver Derr, 1528; William A. Hayes, 732. Sixth (3)—John W. Graham, 1347; David P. Hamilton, 1351; Joseph P. Lodge, 1204.

Seventh (3)—Joseph E. Fabian, 1142; Francis J. Power, 1297; Harry E. Proctor, 1107. Eighth (3)—Francis J. Dougherty, 1173; James L. Gallagher, 1089; John A. Lewis, 1103. Forty-fifth ward vote not included.

RESEARCH BUREAU HITS SCHOOL BOARD

Assails Failure to Remedy Conditions Here and Says Public Should Demand Removal

CHARGES ARE ANSWERED

A public demand for the ousting of the present board of education was suggested today by the Bureau of Municipal Research.

"That the public is to blame for permitting faulty school conditions in Philadelphia is the conclusion of the bureau. The difficulties all reflect on us," the bureau says in a bulletin. "We are apathetic, lukewarm, careless. We are shirking the responsibility that really rests on us."

"Why do we not begin by demanding that the much-talked-of and long-lost school survey to show us the conditions existing in our school system actually be made?"

Demand Live Board

"Why do we not demand a more alive Board of Education, one composed of younger men, who will keep abreast of the times?"

"Why do we not demand the money to pay teachers a salary that will command the best that the market has to offer?"

The bureau points out that 20,000 school children were on part time when the schools closed last term. Lack of facilities were blamed.

"As school resumes this fall," the bureau continued, "20,000 children, or maybe more, are still on part time and there are no new structures to relieve the situation."

"How much of this is a confession of indifference and inefficiency? The responsibility, it is true, lies primarily with the Board of Education. Yes, but we shall have to go farther than the Board of Education. We keep the present school board; we allow their inaction; the blame is ours."

Shallcross Defends Board

In the opinion of Thomas Shallcross, chairman of property committee of the Board of Education: "any one with common sense" would know that new buildings were out of the question during the war, both because of war conditions affecting labor and building materials, and because of insufficient funds in the school treasury.

"As soon as these conditions altered," Mr. Shallcross said, "provision was made for the erection of addition and new school houses. The board has ordered plans drawn for two new buildings in the southwestern part of the city. These will probably be started this fall and be ready for occupancy within eighteen months. Many temporary structures are being taken over by us this year."

Board members believe the increased rate of school tax allowed by the Legislature will provide money for new buildings and they plan to make next year most active in construction work.

"There probably will be more children on part time this year than ever before."

WINS COUNCIL RACE AT 81

Dr. John N. Jacobs, Lansdale, is Nominated After Hard Fight

Dr. John N. Jacobs, eighty-one years old, who as the first controller of Montgomery county, refused his five years' salary of $16,400 to "serve the county without pay," proved at the polls at Lansdale on Monday that he is still a dominating power, winning in the three-cornered race for the borough council nomination.

Millard Jacobs" was in a bitter fight. He was not only nominated on the Republican ticket, but also on the Democratic ticket. His running mate, Monno S. Moyer, was also nominated on both Republican and Democratic tickets. The defeated candidate in the race for the councilman nomination is Squire Charles S. Miller. All three are Republicans and the names of all three were written on many of the Democratic ballots, although Miller lost on each ticket. The two-party nomination means that both Moyer and Jacobs will be Lansdale councilmen from the east ward.

SEEK TO JAIL BIG PACKERS

Attorneys to Ask for Imprisonment if Convictions Are Obtained

Chicago, Sept. 18.—(By A. P.)—Continuation of the testimony of J. H. Chaplin, head of the auditing department of Swift & Co., was in prospect today at the second day's session of the federal grand jury investigating the "big five" packers to determine whether they have violated the Sherman anti-trust law.

All sentences for the packers, Swift & Co., Armour & Co., Wilson & Co., Morris & Co., and the Cudahy Packing Company, will be asked if convictions are obtained, government attorneys assert.
